FORT STANWIX BANK.

President Utley Says That It Could Have Been Saved.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE)

The Associated Press correspondent had an interview with President Utley in regard to the Fort Stanwix Bank. President Utley said that he had been informed that if the present nothing had been found on the books of the bank to show that Cashier Barnard appropriated funds to his personal use, but he added that the cashier had exceeded his authority.

He stated that Bank Examiner Van Vranken, who has been appointed temporary receiver, has thrown out of the bank all the paper he does not know to be all right, including paper partly due. Notes to the amount of about $20,000, from the J. W. Winslow & Co. Cannery Company of Baltimore, have been rejected, as well as about $40,000 of notes of the Loveland Canning Company of Taberg, N. Y. In connection with the latter President Utley said the stock of the Loveland factory is mortgaged by the bank and that at the present market value it would sell for more than the amount due, thus securing the bank in full. In the case of the Jones Company notes, several shares of stock are held by the bank as security, which he thought would be sufficient to cover the amount in the notes. Barnard never informed him, he stated, of the extensive transactions of that company and others.

President Utley said in his opinion that the best course for the appointment of a receiver. He claims that if the directors had been allowed to settle the bank's affairs, they would have raised the necessary $350,000 or $350,000 or so. He would not, however, have guaranteed to raise the $350,000 required by the government in order to allow the bank to go into voluntary liquidation. In regard to the payment of the liabilities, Mr. Utley declared every depositor will get dollar for dollar.

The president of the Fort Stanwix National Bank is a millionaire, and the bank was his pride. He had been its teller for thirty years, and owns at this time $60,000 of the $100,000 capital stock.

BOUGHT HIS BRAINS.

Hawaii's Government Libeled to Prevent Annexation.

Nothing in the Rumors of Secession on the Big Island—Native Sons Dedicate Their New Block. Killed on Kake.

(By Telegraph to The Times) SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—(Special Dispatch.) The suppression of a magazine in Honolulu, the burning of the December edition, and the destruction of the plates, has revealed a strange story. According to the admission of its editor, he was paid by New York Democrats to attack the Hawaiian government in print.

Among the passengers of the steamer Australia was Julian D. Hayne, publisher of the Hawaiian Illustrated Monthly Magazine, the December number of which the officials of the Hawaiian Republic found it necessary to suppress on account of certain matter therein. Hayne purposed remaining in the city until the departure of the Australia upon her return to Honolulu. In the interval he expects to have his magazine that was destroyed by the Hawaiian authorities reprinted from the original manuscript and consigned to the mail for distribution both in Hawaii and the United States. Hayne said to-day:

"I had a contract with the Gazette Publishing Company of Honolulu for printing a magazine and had published five numbers, in which I made it rather warm for the government. For the December number, being the sixth, I had written an article entitled, 'A Fin-de-Siecle Republic,' in which I gave the life history of the founders of the republic and of their morals. This article was profusely illustrated with cartoons, the work of a San Francisco artist. The magazine as printed and in the hands of the binder, and would have been delivered to me within an hour for distribution had not the authorities interfered.

At noon on December 20, a government conveyance backed up to the bindery, loaded the magazines in it, carried them away and burned them. The printers meantime informed me that they had been notified by the Attorney-General that if the book was issued they would be prosecuted. The foreman of the printing office, who is also a stockholder in the concern, told me that he had been threatened with arrest. All the plates of that portion of the book which displeased the government authorities, including all those of the cartoons, were destroyed."

After denying that he was a Royalist, Hayne said: "I am completely opposed to annexation. I have never, heretofore, thought for eight years a resident of the island, mixed in politics, and I am the only one on the Royalist side that has published a line who has not been put in jail."

Hayne then proceeded to explain the purpose back of the publication of his magazine.

"You see, I am paid for what I am doing," he said. "Not by the Royalists, but by a syndicate of New York gentlemen who want to know the truth."

To the suggestion that the eastern men referred to might be working as philanthropists, Hayne said:

"No, that's well. No, to tell you the truth, it's the Democratic party—a syndicate of Democrats."

"To deduce facts to support President Cleveland's policy?"

"Yes, that's about it," responded Hayne.

FROM THE ISLES, SAN FRANCISCO, February 9.—The steamer Australia arrived today from Honolulu, bringing the following address to the Associated Press:

HONOLULU, Feb. 1.—The 17th of January having been declared a national holiday by the republic, invitations to take part were sent in the usual way to the diplomatic and consular corps. Favorable replies were received from all but the representatives of the United States, England, Japan and France. Of these representatives the three last stated in their replies to this government that, as their governments had never recognized the provisional government, and as the holiday was given in celebration of the formation of that government, they did not feel it incumbent upon them to in any way participate. Mr. Willis replied, stating that he would lay the matter before the Secretary of State.

Minister Cooper denies statements published in the San Francisco papers regarding his visit to Hawaii. His trip to Hilo was simply in conformity with the policy of the government. The American government, the rumors of the secession of the people of the big island to call for a visit of any member of the government of Hilo.

The Legislature will meet on February 15. Under an order of the Constitution the Legislature cannot sit more than sixty days except by extension by the President, and then not for more than thirty days additional. Many important questions will be considered, the Asiatic question being one. Chinese and Japanese were originally brought here to work on plantations, but at the expiration of their contracts, many of them drifted into Honolulu, and engaged in pursuits merely in competition with the white mechanics and manufacturers. The competition is commencing to be felt very keenly by the white men in this country.

The American sealing schooner, Willard Ainsworth Crockett, master, bound from Seattle to Yokohama, put in here on January 30 in distress. She ran into a storm on January 29 while on the island of Molokai, and carried away her topmast and headmast. The U.S.S. Boston arrived on January 30, sixteen days from San Francisco. She will remain here ten days, and then leave for the China station.

KILLED ON KAKE.

Hannagah Indians Boast of the Murder of Whites.

(By Associated Press Wire)

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.), Feb. 9.—According to advice received from Alaska today on the steamer Willapa, apprehension is felt for the safety of four white men and one woman, who are believed to have been murdered by Hannagah Indians on Kake Island. One of the tribe was recently convicted of the murder of a white miner, and was to have been hanged last week at Sitka, but sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

U. S. Consul of Hawaii, November 28, the Mining Record of Juneau publishes the following letter from L. M. Bamber, to George Stukley: "I heard indirectly that your sister and her husband started for Prince of Wales Island, and they are now missing. Last summer, while in camp with some Indians, I heard one of them bragging how many whites had been murdered by Hannagah Indians, and he added that there were four white men and one woman lately added to the list. An Indian said his tribe would kill every white man they chanced to meet."

No additional particulars relating to the identity of the missing people has been received here.

NATIVE SONS DEDICATE.

Their New Building at San Francisco Formally Opened.

(By Associated Press Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The Native Sons of the Golden West dedicated their new building today. The large hall in which the exercises took place was filled with interested spectators. The ceremonies commenced with a series of musical selections and airs.

James D. Phelan, president of the Hall Association, made the opening address. An elaborate ceremony was concluded according to the regular ritual of the order. An ode was sung by the Choral Society of the Native Daughters of the Golden West and a brief prayer was recited by Past Grand President J. D. Sprout. The grand marshal called upon the grand marshal to proceed with the ceremony of dedication.

The Choral Society sang "Hall Columbia," and Grand Vice-President Henry C. Gesford delivered a brief address. Speeches were also made by other officers. The new hall is the largest in the city and the building will be used exclusively by the Native Sons.

HELP FOR THE ARMENIANS.

The Times will receive, turn over, account for, and publish a list of all moneys that may be contributed through it for the relief of the suffering Armenians.

The Times, always desiring to please its great numbers of readers in the interior regions of Southern California, as well as those nearer the office of publication, has again chartered a special train to provide early delivery of papers, to distant points. The first run of "The Times Flyer" was made over the Kite-shaped Track yesterday for the sole and only purpose of carrying the great load of Sunday Times to the interior distributing points whence radiate the many carrier routes that serve subscribers in the rural districts, thereby delivering the great papers to the readers at their breakfast tables. This expensive innovation was made in compliance with a generally expressed desire of readers to receive the papers in time to enjoy at their leisure the perusal of the great Sunday issues of The Times. The "Flyer," speeding inland at the rate of a mile a minute, supplies the expressed want of the many patrons for early papers, and serves The Times, damp from the press, to distant readers earlier than by regular trains.

Mayor Sutro of San Francisco has been having numerous unhappy quarters of hours during the past week in trying to find out the brand of etiquette he should use on a live Prince who is now visiting Durrantville on an Italian warship. He has finally concluded that it is his (the Mayor's) business to call on his nibe (the Prince) and invite him to eat something. After that nature will be allowed to take its course. Incidentally, we presume, however, the Mayor will take occasion to say something about the octopus, and then a ride on the new Sutro street cars would seem to be a suitable thing to do.

Later developments confirm the impression heretofore made, that John Hays Hammond, the Californian, has only himself to blame for his trouble in the Boer country. Whatever the conditions in the Transvaal, good Americans should obey the laws of the country in which they live or get out of it. The foreigners in South Africa are there by sufferance only. If they are dissatisfied with the form of government let them go elsewhere. Mr. Hammond evidently has his foot in it, and no amount of excited effort, on the part of his friends seems likely to help the matter. Let him take his medicine.

Street preaching in Los Angeles is degenerating into a farce. If we must have it, however, let the preachers be kept off the busiest thoroughfares. Spring street is too narrow to be used as a "meetin' house" as well as a city highway. The police should make the crowds move on this street, the same as they do on Main street in the vicinity of First. Much of the outdoor exhortation is not only a travesty on religion, but a public nuisance and the town has had enough of it. It should be stopped instanter.

Edison is now proposing to photograph the throbbing brain, if there is anything to thro. The editors of some of our esteemed contemporaries now have an opportunity to ascertain if they have not mistaken their calling. We think they have and believe Wizard Edison will confirm the impression given a chance.

A Chicago editor has been sent to prison for two years, but the Board of Aldermen of that village continue to roam the streets as free as the idle airs that blow. Nothing seems to work just exactly right in this world.

W. W. ASTOR'S PATRIOTISM REBELLING AGAINST SNEERS.

HENRY J. C. CUST CUSSSED THE AMERICAN ONCE TOO OFTEN AND NOW THE MAIL GAZETTE WILL HAVE A CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE

LONDON, Feb. 10.—(By Associated Cable). The Times this morning prints Henry J. C. Cust's explanation of his dismissal from the position of editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, in the form of correspondence between him and W. W. Astor, the proprietor of the paper. Astor gives as his reasons for asking him to resign, the constant sneers and disparaging comments upon America printed in the Pall Mall Gazette, and his disregard for Astor's instructions.

Astor wrote to Cust as follows: "We are suddenly confronted with a dangerous controversy between England and the United States, in which I am deeply interested. I can no longer be responsible for the utterances of a paper over which I exercise only a nominal control. Therefore request that you be constrained to ask you to resign. I sincerely regret the precipitancy of this action, which is due to the political situation."

"Certainly," said the woman, whose eye had lost its look of anxiety, and whose head had regained its dimples of health and youth. "I'll take them in to oblige you."

So in they went, pan and porringer, griddle and skillet, gladly rejoining their fellow-servants.

"Anything else you want?" asked the man from the wagon. "This is all, isn't it?" she asked. "Yes, except—"

"Except what?"

"Except myself," said the man, suggestively.

"Well, you can go away with yourself; you are a dirty Democrat; you drink whisky, and you will not wash. I've an eye on a decent of court, and a clean Repub., and your chances are good."

Now it is to be expected that the Democratic precincts of Sofortown will absorb the man and his sorrow.

"THE LINCOLN TAX."

ON FREE SPEECH—AN INCIDENT OF THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

BY MARGARET SPENCER.

Gen. Grant and a brother officer were one day walking up Pennsylvania avenue when this good story was told and much enjoyed:

"There are all sorts of taxes, general, but did the boys ever tell you of our special tax on free speech? We called it 'The Lincoln Tax.'"

"No, never did," said Gen. Grant.

Lighted a fresh cigar and quietly said, in his odd way: "Go on."

"Well, our regiment was on duty, for a few days down in Virginia, and with a small squad of men and a few officers were scouting about a little. We spied near a road a splendid looking gentleman in middle life, whom we learned was a Unionist, sitting on the wide planks of his handsome Virginia porch. It was about four miles from our camp. A little chap about 12 leaned over the old man's chair and called him 'Uncle Tom.'

"Now, we were not out destroying property or raiding the country. We spoke politely to the man, intending to go on. He laid down his cigar, stood a moment, and began railing against 'Lincoln and his minions!'

"Tom whispered: 'Give the soldiers something to eat, uncle. You didn't fight; you ought to help support it.'

"Go along to your aunt, boy. What do you know about war?" But Tom remained.

"I said, 'You may pay your tax in butter if you will. My men will be grateful.'

"Let them eat the butter, the devils, Lincoln's hirelings! and again the man burst forth in vile speech."

"I added: 'Thanks for the butter, and as you know, we have a dozen of your best hams, some flour and meal.' The trade went on. 'And—sir—the sooner the better!'

"Little Tom sprang to do our bidding, ordering two or three negroes to bring our mule and our ready for the march."

"Upon Tom's arrival, he was wild with rage. He marched up and down, swearing all the time, and the men were exhausted by starvation and exposure, but subsequently recovered. The War Department masterminded the bills under orders from Gen. Carlin that the men were snowed in and would perish unless rescued. Lieut. Elliott begged to be ordered out with a detachment of men to search for the men, but was refused.

The hunters were not rescued until November 22 when Lieut. Elliott discovered them; they were exhausted by starvation and exposure, but subsequently recovered. Elliott begged to be ordered out with a detachment of men to search for the men, but was refused.

San Diegans feel tolerably secure against foreign invasion while the Monterey swings idly at her anchor in their harbor. This vessel is one of the most powerful ironclads afloat.

It is stated that political eggs are being hatched in Pasadena, and that the shuffling and cutting of the cards is going on at a great rate, all on the dead quiet. However, there are signs in the air which indicate that the present spring will witness about the liveliest municipal campaign that Pasadena has ever experienced.

The folly of taking contracts to prevent others from getting them has a new illustration at Soldiers' Home, where the men who undertook the new barracks for $3000, less than their competitors, have just been obliged to abandon their job and muct their bondsman. Home officials will finish the building.

Orange county proposes to keep up its annual racemeets. The Orange County Fair Company has just been organized, which assumes control of the property of the Orange County Fair Association, and the Thirty-second District Agricultural Association and makes itself liable for any obligations that the other two associations may have had. Santa Ana has always had among the very best racemeets held in the State.

It is of interest to note the effect of city chain-gangs upon the festive hobo. His dislike for work makes him avoid the gaudy towns and confine himself to the pleasures of rural life. The only casualty thus far reported to these gentlemens of the road, is the severe burning of the tramp near Oceanus, who was too lazy to draw away from the deadly fire, which destroyed his clothes and almost claimed his life. Such laziness is phenomenal.

Why is it necessary for a single religious denomination to build seven or eight churches in a city the size of Los Angeles, each church saddled with a heavy debt, and all its attendant care and worry? Would it not be possible to combine forces and build one large church, big enough for all of the sect in the city, and by combining thus gain a strength and power for good the little, scattered churches cannot have? Seven separate churches cost many times more than one church amply big enough for all seven congregations. In union there is strength.

The clerks in the office of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General at Washington, D. C., have broken forth again. Once more the beautiful Spanish names which lend their charm to towns all up and down the Pacific Coast, or the fascinating pioneer appellations, have been crumpled, contracted, twisted and generally mussed up by these Philistines, these vandals, these Hottentots! Here are some of the atrocious of orthography which the long-suffering public must copy in future: Eltiro, Yobet, Dospalos, Benbur, Delsur, Elmonte, Rodel, Chulavista, Delmar, Elcajon, Enido, Lamosa, Twinoska, Rio Vista, Rodel, Elrio, Laspasos, Neahay and Vanbure. The man might go further and call himself Damphool.

The State is being flooded with circulars telling in glowing colors of an exhibition of California products to be held in New York at an early date. The seductive words of these circulars paint the good things which will accrue to California and to the individual exhibitor if he will only step forward and pay his $50, $100 or $200 fee for floor space. The Chamber of Commerce officials are being besieged with questions as to the scheme. They warn people to fight shy of the affair, for fraud seems clearly written upon its face. One thing which gives the project an ugly look is that the promoters declare it to be under the auspices of the California Board of Trade, whereas that body knows nothing whatever either of the scheme or of the men who are engrossing it.

Chamber of Commerce.

Recent contributions at the Chamber of Commerce are: Some beautiful calla lilies and roses, from Mrs. Crane of Duarre; naval oranges and Eureka lemons from John A. Grimes, Fillmore; five boxes of oranges, sent by the Riverside Board of Trade, to be used in the display in jars on the Riverside table; and a beautiful lot of oranges from the Tejon ranch, up in Kern county. The latter have been put on exhibition in a very pretty way. They are placed in a tall glass jar of glass, inside the case are several plates of glass containing stories, as it were, in the case. On these transparent shelves the oranges are placed, wreathed with graceful sprays of smilax. Seen from a little distance, the oranges look almost as if floating in air. The ranch company sent down a case, a nice case of Maika bloods, a case of seedlings and a case of Mediterranean sweets. They are all beautiful specimens of citrus fruit, firm and smooth and clean, without a particle of dust or scale.

New Religious Paper.

The California Independent, a weekly newspaper edited by Rev. P. H. Bodkin, A.M., is a new candidate for public favor. It is a religious paper, non-sectarian, and is to be the organ of all the churches; a number of them of different denominations, having fraternal in the support of the venture. The paper starts out auspiciously.

HONOR TO GARIBALDI.

THE ITALIAN CITIZENS RESPECT THE PATRIOT'S MEMORY.

The Garibaldi Guards Unveil a Bust of the General with Appropriate Ceremonies—Addresses in Italian, French and English.

At the Italian Hall, on Date street, yesterday all was mirth and jollity, the occasion being the unveiling of a bronze bust of Garibaldi in bas-relief. The bust is the work of the famous G. Platavanna, and as a splendid likeness and work of art, is unsurpassed. It stood in the further end of the hall, over the doorway, in the center of a shield, draped with crimson curtains edged with gold. On each side were the American and Italian flags, and over all a large crown with a white cross underneath. This with a background of waving palms made a most effective picture.

The hall was decorated with red, white and green bunting, the Italian colors. At intervals pine trees were set, with palms between, the whole effect being one of strange beauty and showing the work of a master hand. The room was crowded with men, and women in the picturesque costume of the Garibaldi Legion. The clatter of strange tongues, the flashing eyes and pearly teeth of the women, with the distinctly foreign tones over the whole scene, made a strange picture. Los Angeles. Suddenly, at a call to order in Italian, a hush fell over the crowd, and President Magatti of the Garibaldi Society arose, and with a few forcible and patriotic remarks, unveiled the bust, and with a short speech followed by a military salute. The members of the Legion Francaise followed and for a short time all was pandemonium.

Capt. Billaude of the Legion Francaise, who fought under Garibaldi in the years 1861-63, spoke next, in French.

CROSSING DANGERS.

LIVES ARE SNATCHED FROM THE JAWS OF DEATH.

Strangers and Careless Citizens Have Many Narrow Escapes from the Street Cars—Policemen and Switchmen Who Deserve Many Medals.

"Women live in the most trouble." It was Officer Martin Singlet who spoke in answer to a reporter's query as to what class of people most annoyance was experienced from the street cars and police cars. The city, which is the center of car lines from all parts, and the rights to be seen there and people to be seen there, are the rights of the police.

Ninety-six cars pass every hour, and the amount of jumping around that the three watched had to do to quiet such a crowd as either of them from going sleepily John Casper, the switchman, better known as "Johnny," has stood at his post of that corner of the city, for a year, and has saved the lives that the unassuming man has saved will entitle him to a big credit on the street on the brawny arm of the stalwart mountaineer, who has been the chief in all summing up. CHURCH RECORD.
DEDICATION DAY.Three Churches and an Organ
Were Consecrated.Coincidence of Sermons on Music and Worship.The Worst Thing in the World is Hypocrisy—Reproving the World of Wickedness—Services at the Various Churches.

The United Brethren are rejoicing over the completion of their new church, on the corner of Hope and Pico streets. There were services almost all day yesterday, and the members and friends of the church gathered in force to admire the beautiful edifice and rejoice over its completion.

The cost of the church was over $10,000. It is attractive in outward appearance and comfortably and conveniently arranged within. The auditorium, which is built with a sloping floor, seats 600 people. Back of this, with only sliding doors between, is a Sunday-school and infant class-room, seating 150 more. At the top of the octagonal tower is a roomy cosy study, and at the height of a choir-room. In the basement is a large, well-lighted room, which is the exclusive domain of the ladies. There they have every convenience for serving suppers and lunches, or holding social circles. The whole building is heated by furnace.

The choir platform is in the chancel, and in the rear, next to the wall, stands the organ. The pulpit chairs are of solid oak, curiously carved, and cushioned with crimson plush. The handsome reading desk and the communion table are of solid oak, upholstered in crimson plush. The pews, the panelled ceiling and all the woodwork are of the same massive material. The carpet is of the best quality, in soft colors.

The light comes in, shadowed and soft, through the windows of rich stained glass. On the east side is a window given by Maj. George H. Bonebrake in memory of his father, Frederick Bonebrake. On the west are two windows, given by the people of the church. One keeps green the memory of Rev. E. A. Starkey, the first pastor of the church, and his wife, Mrs. Anna M. Starkey. The other is in memory of Miss Matie Felt.

The church was fragrant yesterday with a profusion of flowers. The chancel was outlined in callas and calla lilies, and there were masses of callas about the platform. On the front of the lectern was a lovely star made all of roses, and on its top were bunches of narcissus and carnations. A tall cross of white roses leaned against the left side of the lectern. The flowers were all tinted with a delicate pink, and intermixed with dainty violets. The entrance to the Sunday school-room was outlined in yellow-blossomed acacia, evergreens and palms.

The day's devotions commenced with a well-attended sunrise prayer-meeting at 7 a.m. At 9:30 a.m. the Sunday-school met, with P. O. Bonebrake, the superintendent, in charge.

At the 11 a.m. service the platform was occupied by Bishop J. W. Hott, D.D., of Dayton, O. Rev. Dr. Bell, a missionary on his way from Japan, and Rev. J. S. Pitman, the pastor of the church. Dr. Bell made the opening prayer, and J. A. Foshy sang an offertory solo. Mr. Pitman introduced Bishop Hott, a few words, then said the Bishop was responsible for the planting of the United Brethren Church in Los Angeles. He watched over it, was present when the lot was selected, he dedicated the chapel which was the seed from which has grown the beautiful new building.

Bishop Hott chose as the theme of his dedicatory sermon, "Beauty and Strength Are in His Sanctuary," from Psalm xlii. Bishop Hott received the greetings of the church. He said that in 1891 the Board of Missions of the United Brethren in Christ, in their session in Dayton, O., May 9, agreed to co-operate with the Young People's Christian Union in the establishment of a church in the city of Los Angeles, and Rev. E. A. Starkey, then pastor of Oak-street church, Dayton, O., was appointed to undertake the work. The missionary work was to support Mr. Starkey as far as needed, while the Young People's Christian Union agreed to aid in securing grounds and a church building. The first services were held in St. Vincent Hall, September 20, 1891, at which service the young people present were seated. Services were held in Union Hall, corner Grand avenue and Seventeenth street, on October 18, 1891, at which time the Sabbath-school was organized. On October 23, the church was organized with twenty members. The first quarterly conference was held by Rev. J. S. Pitman, as presiding elder, on November 8, 1891. On March 18, 1892, the lot on which this building now stands, purchased for $2,000. On May 18, 1893, occurred the dedication of the chapel, which has since been used by the congregation, but which has been replaced by the present beautiful church. In May, 1893, Rev. E. A. Starkey, presiding elder, with Mr. Pitman, assumed control as presiding elder. In the following October Mr. Pitman came as pastor for the work. Under his care the work has steadily grown, until the membership now stands at 125, there is an endowment society of 65 members, a junior society of 25 and a Sunday-school of 140 members. The Young People's Christian Union of the denomination has paid toward the purchase of the lot $4,500 and stands pledged for a remaining sum of $2,500. The local society, with its friends, has paid in cash about $4,000.

The remainder of the sermon dealt with the thoughts suggested by the text. The sanctuary is God's dwelling place; it is a place of purity, of praise and of prayer. It represents God revealed. God loved God, and God loved man. The church is the dwelling-place of God made to man in his sanctuary. The sanctuary presents a God loved. It is a revelation of the brotherhood of man in the holiness of human love.

We cannot lean on ourselves. We must somehow have companionship with that which is above us. Our union and communion must be with God. Here in the sanctuary with a living Bible, a living God, a living spirit, the soul and body union with the Almighty, and it rests there. In Christianity the delicate and the beautiful are combined with the strong and abiding. Beauty and endurance walk hand in hand; that which is fair is immortal.

At the close of the morning service lunch was served in the basement of the church, and a general invitation was extended to the congregation to remain. There was a short service, with a sermon by Rev. A. H. Wilson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church. At 4 p.m. was the Juniors' meeting, in charge of Mary E. Donaldson, 630 N. Alameda, J. H. Franklin, lecturer on Y.P.S.C. on "Samson." The evening services were at 7:30, with a sermon by Bishop Hot. Mrs. Cora A. Bouch had charge of the music.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

This beautiful midwinter Sabbath was peculiarly a day of joy and gladness to this church and congregation, with whose worship mingled a large number of friends who filled the edifice overflowing, and cheered the hearts of its members with their kindly congratulations. The occasion was the dedication of the beautiful memorial organ to the service of song in worship. The organ was received at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The pretty little church was crowded with people, all of them aglow with the pleasure of meeting again in an enlarged and beautiful church.

"Fraternally yours,

EDWARD HILDRETH."

CHRIST CHURCH.

After being given over for two months to the mason and carpenter, the painter and decorator, Christ Episcopal Church was reopened at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The pretty little church was crowded with people, all of them aglow with the pleasure of meeting again in an enlarged and beautiful church.

The theme chosen by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Day, was, "Music in Worship." The church was filled with the words of the psalmist, "Sing unto the Lord, O ye saints of God." "The Lord was ready to save me; therefore will we sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the Lord."

Rev. Alfred Clark, the pastor, preached the sermon. He said that the church is the church of the old to blend their religion with their daily life. They did not look up from nature to nature's God, but took Jehovah as the starting point. Always and everywhere was the sense that God is the author of creation and nature, and has made all good.

Such place has music filled, and in one of the conspicuous events in the ages which have passed over our globe.

The singing capacity has been nearly doubled. The church, as remodeled, is of the Middle Gothic style of architecture. In front rises a new tower and on the sides a new belfry.

The whole inside of the church is new and neat, comfortable.

The chancel floor is covered with a carpet of rich crimson. The ceiling of the chancel is decorated with Italian frescoes—a decoration of crowns and fleur de lis.

The organ is tinted in old gold, with the ceiling in gold.

There will be handsome stained-glass windows, but these have not yet all been put in.

Christ Church will make a special feature of its music in future. A new organ will be installed in the chancel, Wagner which is unspoken by Browning; a vision of the eternal world.

Beethoven not revealed even in Frederick Faber. Music is the interpreter of the great unutterable in man.

William Stevens is the leader of the choir, and himself sings tenor in the organ. Mrs. Josie Tolson is the soprano. Mrs. Bernice Homan sings alto and R. L. Horton sings bass.

EAST LOS ANGELES BAPTIST.

Rev. George E. Dye delivered an interesting and thoughtful sermon Sunday morning on "The Superiority of Christ over Other Great Teachers," from the text, "Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God."

The contemplation of great teachers is not only interesting, but exceedingly profitable. Moses, Saka-Moun, Confucius, Zoroaster, Socrates, Calvin, Luther, Wesley and Spurgeon all will hold a prominent place in public worship. Today, when devout learning, logic and eloquence have done their best, there is still a place unfilled.

in which the ear, perhaps penetrates the intellect, but it never reaches the heart. The seed is taken away through Satan's messengers. The germ of a new life is gone, and we are left with the old. The seed upon the rocky soil has been received with joy, but a joy that never counted the cost of discipline. It is the soil of a heart lacking every quality of sober earnestness, a character that lacks root. When added to the flagrant flagrancy then perishes.

We used to grow downward. The outward growth will then take care of itself.

The cause of failure to mature on thorny ground was the neglect of the soil, but the deceitfulness of riches choke the word.

How sadly true and how truly sad this picture is. The poor cannot dress to a certain standard, or cannot move in a certain society.

Human spiritual growth becomes stunted. On the other hand the rush to acquire wealth stifles the precious grain.

"But not all the seed falls of producing fruit; but where it does fall, not all are rejected. Some at least are chosen, even though they be few. Some seed falls on good ground.

The characteristics of the good ground are, first, an honest and good heart; second, medium intelligence; the third, virtue; the fourth, patience; the fifth, keep it; the sixth, endurance; they bring forth fruit with patience.

The beaten wayside may be made soft by the processes of God's grace; the shallow soil made rich and deep by the composition of the rocky soil beneath the thorns may be rooted out, and the seed bear fruit unto eternal life.

SIMPSON TABERNACLE.

Sunday morning service at Simpson Tabernacle was well attended. Rev. Mr. Cocking, a returned missionary from Japan, filled the pulpit for Dr. McLean. The pastor chose for his theme, Psalms, xlii. 11. The pastor said in part: "The beauties of the whole Bible are mirrored in the Psalms. We want to see why this name shall be called blessed. Why do men when they know this Savior, rise up and call Him blessed? First, because of us. You child loves because you have done something for it. There is something in our religion that centers in the personality of Christ. Our Savior is lovable, because He first loved us. Maturing and maturing has the teacher and teacher, but what we want is the truth, as portrayed in the love of Christ. If a man dies, shall he live again? Over the darkness of the future Christ is the light of His grace and judgment. We have never asked again. Buddha and other teachers have given their theories to men; but none have the grace and help that comes through the great redemption He has given to the world. Men are happy in this world, but not in the world to come. A joy which comes from a belief on the Lord Jesus Christ which passeth all understanding. Though tossed by the storms of the world, and troubled by fears, in Jesus there is peace. Christ is the truth, and the truth is the only saving force which brings national or national peace and prosperity today. Shall we not all rise this morning and call Him, and call Him blessed who has wrought so great things for us?"

In the afternoon, Dr. R. E. Smith, secretary of the Southern California Scientific Society, lectured on "Mars." The speaker showed a scholarly familiarity with his subject, and during the delivery of the lecture his large audience paid spell-bound, in the closest attention to the words of the eloquent and learned lecturer.

The Great Sale

---OF THE---

Barnes Stock.

We will re-open the sale this morning at 10 o'clock, somewhat better prepared to wait upon the thousands who will no doubt avail themselves of the opportunity to buy new, elegant and fashionable Ladies' Furnishings at less than one-half the actual cost of manufacture. On Saturday we were compelled to close our doors several times during the day on account of the immense crush of people. We have added all the desirable salespeople available, and re-inforced our cashiers, so that now we hope to be able to serve you better. We suggest that as far as possible, our customers will carry their small parcels, as our Delivery Department is at this time in about the same condition as the general postoffice—clogged.

READ THIS LETTER.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 1, 1894.

To the Public: I was seriously afflicted for about ten years with lung, liver and kidney trouble, and was in a condition of great misery I endured during those years. I was reduced to flesh until I was a mere skeleton.

My right side was constantly pained.

I was constantly troubled with constipation and piles, and had a severe chronic cough.

In short, life was a burden, and death would have been a welcome guest. I was treated by various specialists from the United States and Canada, but of no avail. I tried all the patent medicines, but they did not help. I even tried the best of them, but they did not help.

Then I came to this country, and was given a few doses of this medicine.

It did not help, but I continued to take it.

No. 47 East Colorado street.
PASADENA, Feb. 3, 1898.

Novelties in wash goods. Bon Accord. Funeral services of Harrold Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Des Lassay, will be at Adams' funeral parlors Monday at 2 p.m.

Invitations sent out for a full-dress ball at the East San Gabriel Hotel the evening of Washington's birthday.

J. E. Louthan, a former resident of Pasadena, but now a citizen of San Bernardino, visited friends here Saturday.

A special car containing the officials of the Santa Fe route passed through Pasadena this afternoon. Manager Wayne was the escort.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McNally entertained a large party of friends at cards Saturday evening, at their beautiful Altadena residence.

With a business area extended one-fourth by the paving of streets in the business center, Pasadena is coming over like a snow storm.

Robert T. Lincoln, F. W. Doane and party returned from their visit to Echo Mountain today, and after a brief stop at Hotel Green, proceeded upon their way to Los Angeles and San Diego.

The guests of the Casa Grande are making preparations for a cotillion which will be given in the dining room of the house Tuesday evening, February 11. Fourteen couples will participate.

John De Koven, a member of the Robert T. Lincoln party, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Dickey, at Hotel Green, the past two days, left this afternoon with the rest of the party.

The Valley Hunt Club gave an enjoyable card party at the clubrooms Saturday evening, which was largely attended. Refreshments were served and the rooms were prettily decorated for the function.

It is stated that the flats to be erected at the corner of Chestnut street and Raymond avenue will be of the Moorish style of architecture, and will contain four apartments each, and will be an ornament to that part of the city.

The school trustees took action on E. H. Gorill's contract on Saturday. Mr. Gorill had notified the trustees that he had thrown up the contract, and his bondsmen were accordingly required to complete it. The building is nearly finished.

Mr. Sankey drew to the Tabernacle this afternoon and evening one of the largest crowds seen under its roof for many a day. Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins assisted in the song services. Mr. Sankey gave an account of the composition of "Ninety and Nine."

The Madison-avenue Improvement is progressing rapidly under the favor of the auspices of the last few weeks. The gutter is laid as far north as Villa street, the curb is being placed, and two weeks more at the outside, will probably witness the end of the work.

The Mrs. Cody, whose mysterious disappearance in Tacoma has excited the public interest of that city, is the daughter-in-law of Judge Coyle, a citizen of Pasadena, who lives on Orange Grove avenue. It is feared that the lady wandered off while insane and committed suicide.

The John F. Godfrey Post, G.A.R., contemplates a patriotic programme for the 18th, to be held in connection with the Masonic celebration in Los Angeles upon that day, the exercises will not be of a very elaborate nature, and will consist principally in the raising of the two flags presented by the post to the two new schoolhouses.

The Friday night smoker and entertainment given by the Crown City Club, was represented by J. C. Hughes, Supervisor of the Sixth Ward, and William Clift, a wholesale merchant, and their wives who stayed over night and took an early trip over the Alpine grade this morning. This party was augmented today by a large San Francisco delegation consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Davis, Mrs. and Mr. S. Benedict, John H. Gray, Dr. H. M. Fliske, Mrs. Ella A. Judson, Miss Charlotte D. Judson, E. J. Benedict, Mrs. H. M. Muir, Mr. and Mrs. John Harjest, Mrs. and Mrs. J. McDonald, Miss M. Wall, Miss Edna E. Field, and Miss Della Field. Others from San Francisco were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Smith, J. L. M. Shetterly, Paul Speier, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Grinnell, L. J. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ross, and Mrs. J. A. Rey.

When the ladies this morning reached Inspiration Point, after half a mile walk up the carriage grade, some one beckoned them up higher to a pine-covered rock where the flag is planted. "Well, if this is Inspiration Point," said one, "I suppose that must be Perspiration Point." The fervor of the midwinter sun and the un-wanted exercise had induced cerebral activity.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, Feb. 9.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Electric Light and Power Company has secured Engle Newberg of Riverside to prepare plans for the extension of the pipe line in Mill Creek Cañon, on which he has been at work for some days. A force of men will begin work within a few days on the pipe line.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

The residence of Dr. F. F. Rowland, Pasadena's Health Officer, was robbed this morning while the family was at church. The thief was evidently thoroughly familiar with the premises, and with the habits of the family, and so timed his visit as to be undetected. He carried away with him a diamond ring, a gold watch $6 in money, a quantity of silverware, and many small portable articles of value. No arrests have been made.

ORANGE MATTERS.

Every packing-house in the Redlands district is once more sending out oranges with the uniform rate of $2.25 f. o. b. is demanded, except for fruit from the Exchange Association, which, of course, ships to exchange agents for sale in the East. The price now being realized for navels is an advance over the previous year of $1.65, and when the market is at its peak it is reckoned that up to the 1st of February Redlands navels averaged $2 to the growers, it will be seen that the season promises to run way ahead of last year. There is no demand for seedlings, and Redlands have almost

NEW CHURCH WANTED.

The Methodist Church Building Committee is considering a plan which has been submitted for a new church. It provides for a brick structure with stone trimmings, to cost $35,000 in all. When the present church building is removed to make way for the new one, the line of the church property will be made to conform to the established street line. The plans under consideration will be submitted to the quarterly conference the last of February. Mr. Wallace, the father of Mrs. Frank Johnson of Madison avenue and one of the most prominent business men of Pasadena, will celebrate his eightieth birthday, February

It has been the custom of his relatives ever since his fortieth birthday, to tender him a grand birthday celebration every ten years. This is the fourth of these great family festivals in the Wallace family, and all the children and grandchildren are to be present to assist in the merrymaking. Mr. Wallace is exceedingly Hale and well-preserved, and his friends hope that he may live to celebrate his centennial.

Left Uncovered.

It is now stated that the Pasadena and Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company will cover its reservoir this season, but will await the experiment of the West-side company in that direction. The Linda Vista Reservoir is covered, and the water is perfectly free from vegetation, growth, decomposing matter, that is excluded from sunlight in all that is necessary to make the Pasadena water the best in the State.

MT. LOWE.

Chicago and San Francisco People on the Heights.

ECHO MOUNTAIN, Feb. 9.—(Regular Correspondence.) Two days of ideal and exquisite beauty have been improved by throngs of sightseers from all parts of the country, but notably from Chicago and San Francisco, the number registering from those two cities alone exceeding fifty.

No one could par a more graceful compliment than that paid to us by visitors from the East than that which was tendered by O. S. Sprague of Sierra Madre, at the head of a large Chicago business firm, to a number of distinguished gentlemen who have just arrived from the blizzard-swept East to look at the winter wonderland of February in this genial climate.

Mr. Sprague tendered the hospitalities of Mount Lowe to his distinguished friends, Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, ex-Minister to England; Maj.-Gen. Wesley Merritt, the chief ranking general in the United States; J. W. Dean, president of the receivers of the Northern Pacific Railroad; P. L. Yoe, at the head of a large business firm, and Dr. C. W. Wells, all of Chicago, and Edgar T. Wells and Henry Elliott of New York.

Several tables were consolidated to accommodate the party in the dining room, and Mr. Sprague acted as host of the occasion, while Prof. T. S. C. Lowe assumed the accustomed role of guest and sat on the right of Gen. Merritt and opposite Mr. Dean.

In the afternoon the party had been escorted over the Alpine division by another detachment of Chicago friends, consisting of John De Koven, a prominent capitalist, and Andrew McNally, Nathan Mears and Dr. Norman Bridge, who were present.

Mr. Lincoln visited Echo Mountain in company with Marshall Field, Norman B. Rasmussen and others two years ago, before the present sumptuous hotel was begun, and was greatly impressed with the financial expenditures implied in the erection of the Echo Mountain House and neighboring buildings and the construction of the unparalleled electric road to Alpine Tavern, in the heart of a great mountain forest.

Mr. Yoe is 81 years of age, but moves with the alertness of a man of three times his age, and is a veritable climbing mountain when he is a hundred.

But a special car late in the evening brought up more Chicago people; Edw. Burritt Smith and Morris Trumbull, who were accompanied by Gen. T. S. C. Lowe, Mrs. and Mrs. E. P. Clark and W. J. Tracy of Los Angeles, and Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Conger of Pasadena. And these did not exhaust the Chicago contingent, for George B. Robbins of the Armour Company, Mrs. Mrs. and Mrs. John Mason and her daughter, Miss Myrtle, were also present.

Miss Myrtle is a charming vocalist and rendered some exquisite songs during the evening, and well entertained the large gathering of sixty guests in Social Hall.

Mr. Sprague was represented by J. C. Hughes, Supervisor of the Sixth Ward, and William Clift, a wholesale merchant, and their wives who stayed over night and took an early trip over the Alpine grade this morning. This party was augmented today by a large San Francisco delegation consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Davis, Mrs. and Mr. S. Benedict, John H. Gray, Dr. H. M. Fliske, Mrs. Ella A. THE COWBOY PREACHER.

even the street was so full of humanity that the electric cars could hardly get through. Police Sergeant Morton observed his way through the crowd and told Rice that he would have to adjourn his meeting to a side street or vacant lot where he would not interfere with the public convenience.

The preacher immediately began to beckon to the people to clear the public walk, and the bivouac fires were lit.

They were seemingly as light-hearted and oblivious to what would follow as the soldiers for soldiers to be.

They kept up the revelry during most of the night, and some were to make the soldiers' sacrifice on the morrow, while others were to witness the final triumph.

"Fill your pockets, your hats, your bags, and your handkerchiefs, your arms, if you please," was the word, and the Confederate notes and bonds were rapidly disbursed. If they were at a discount, they were crumpled and never used in earnest denominations.

Spreading their blankets on the ground by the bivouac fires, the veterans proceeded to business, and such scenes of gambling were probably never before witnessed. Ten thousand dollars was the usual "take-off" from $20,000 to $100,000 in a single night. The men were loaded with the Confederate treasury, which had been brought out of that department at Richmond. Then followed a most extraordinary scene of jollity and good humor. The Monte Carlo was suddenly improvised in the midst of the bivouac of war.

"Here's the Confederate treasury, sure as you are a soldier," shouts one.

ORANGE COUNTY.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF ELECTRIC LIGHTS AT SANTA ANA.

Good News Received of Mine, Modjeska—The Usual Grist of News Notes and Personals from All Over the County.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 9.—(Regular Correspondence.) When the municipal ownership of the electric light system was agitated in Santa Ana, several months ago, one of the favorite arguments of the few who opposed the proposition was "to wait and see how the business or municipal ownership at Anaheim would pan out."

There was, of course, no logic in the argument, for the conditions are not as favorable, by long odds, in Anaheim as they are now and have been for the past several years in Santa Ana, but notwithstanding this fact the municipal lights at Anaheim are proving to be a most profitable and successful business. It is an idea of what the plant is doing that can be gleaned from the following paragraph which is taken from the last issue of the Gazette of that town: "The electric light plant is now being taxed almost to the full capacity. The business of the city ownership of the plant has been more than the most sanguine anticipated, and the pecuniary benefit derived is cause for congratulation. Should more lights be applied for, then other dynamos will be added to the plant for powering the commercial lights, of which a great many more could then be supplied, and the other used exclusively for the arcs or street lamps. At any rate, the plant will have to be enlarged, either by the addition of another dynamo or by the purchase of a plant of larger capacity. The rapid rate with which the plant has grown is a genuine testimonial of our enterprise and advancement."

How much more successful a municipal plant in Santa Ana would be, with the conditions as far more favorable, needs but a trial to determine. And yet, if the success would be not more than at Anaheim, is not that enough?

MODJESKA IMPROVING.

Dr. J. C. McCoy of Orange has just received a letter from Count Bozena to the effect that Mine, Modjeska is rapidly recovering from her recent illness, and is entirely out of danger and almost free from suffering from her recent trouble. A party of about a dozen bicycle riders of Santa Ana indulged in a pleasure trip to San Juan Capistrano on their way today (Sunday). The roads now in this valley are the wheelmen's delight.

I. V. Alpertson of Anaheim, who was sent to the asylum for weak-minded at Elkhorn about a week ago, is not expected to live but a few days.

Alpertson has gone to Highland to remain with her husband during his affliction.

Coyotes are again becoming quite numerous in this country, especially along the foothills in the district known as "The Willow." They are becoming so brave that suburban farmers have to use extra precaution in protecting their henries.

(Fullerton Tribune:) A. F. Morton, the well-known real estate dealer, and E. S. Crighton of Santa Ana, called at the Tribune office yesterday. Mr. Morton was circulating a petition for signatures, to be sent to Congress, asking that a august body to right the wrongs that are being inflicted on our farmers by the unfeeling holders of large bodies of valuable land in this section, particularly the San Joaquin ranch.

The Villa Park Literary Society and the Jefferson Club of Santa Ana will have a joint meeting at Villa Park Friday evening, February 21, when it will be discussed whether the "Monroe doctrine" is advantageous to the United States. The discussion will, of course, be public, and no doubt will be quite spirited. The Jefferson Club

CONTRACTORS SLUMPED.

NEW BARRACKS IN HOME OFFICIALS' HANDS.

Messrs. Jonah and Jay in Financial Straits—Their Bondsman Will Lose Coming Events—Prominent Visitors—Home Brevities Generally.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Feb. 9.—(Regular Correspondence.) Not all of the delay in finishing the new barracks building was properly chargeable to the plumbers, as recent events have demonstrated, for the contractors have finally been obliged to "throw up the sponge" and acknowledge themselves worked. The building was let to Jonah & Jay of Los Angeles for about $2,000. The next lowest bid was in the neighborhood of $25,000, but the contractors were able to give a sufficient bond and undertook the work. Within a week or so past Jay has disappeared, and it is said that he has wronged his partner as well as the bondsman. Mr. Jonah remains as a mechanic on the job, which is being pushed to completion under direction of the Home treasurer, Maj. Upham, under the terms of the lease. It is expected to have the building ready for occupancy by the end of the present month.

NATIONAL ANNIVERSARIES.

February 22 will be appropriately observed at the Home this year, as usual. Just what the programme will be is yet undetermined, but one feature will be an address by some prominent speaker, presumably a military man. Col. Harrison Gray Otis is invited to the place, but he has written to the Home that he is unable to accept. In his letter Col. Otis says:

"I have your letter of yesterday and I thank you for the proposed honor. I will, however, be absent from home and in the East on the 22d inst., and therefore be unable to accept your kind invitation to speak at the Home. Our veterans comrades on the day."

"I hope to be able to hear May McKinley, my old brother-in-laws in the Twenty-third Ohio Regiment, speak up at the Patriotic Club in Chicago next Wednesday night."

"Wishing you and your 'command' health and happiness, I am, etc."

The Times editor would have been cordially welcomed here, where his paper is read by more members every week than all other daily and weekly papers combined. Other appropriate arrangements will be made for the dead.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Maj. A. W. Barrett, local manager of the home, and Gen. Dimond of the C.N.G., spent Friday at the home, guests of Gov. Rowland, and his fellow-officers. It was Maj. Barrett's first visit for some weeks, and Gen. Dimond had been here for a week, and both with his presence. The former gave some attention to home matters, and the other expressed himself as somewhat surprised and greatly pleased with the size, discipline and general good order of the home, and its surroundings.

THE LONG ROLL.

The week's death foot three. Albert Wheatland, late Co. C, Fifty-third Illinois Infantry, died at the home, guests of Gov. Rowland, and his fellow-officers. It was Maj. Barrett's first visit for some weeks, and Gen. Dimond had been here for a week, and both with his presence. The former gave some attention to home matters, and the other expressed himself as somewhat surprised and greatly pleased with the size, discipline and general good order of the home, and its surroundings.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

The Coast Road Carrying Beans News Notes.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 9.—(Regular Correspondence.) The coast road has begun the shipment of beans from the Lompoc section. Five cars were recently from Guadalupe direct to Boston, and two cars to New Orleans, loaded with beans, and at the same rates as are charged from San Francisco. The Bostonians can still indulge in their baked delicacy.

The report comes from Lompoc that the coast road cities intend to discontinue the running of his steamer between the mountains and Los Olivos and Santa Barbara. This may arise from the fact that the Southern Pacific Company is selling tickets through to Santa Barbara.

Arrangements have been made for excursion trains to be run from Santa Ana to Los Angeles on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic temple Saturday, February 22.

A party of about a dozen bicycle riders of Santa Ana indulged in a pleasure trip to San Juan Capistrano on their way today (Sunday). The roads now in this valley are the wheelmen's delight.

On Saturday the rail and stage road from Lompoc to Santa Barbara will be open to travel. Thirty-four hours will be consumed in making the distance, 488 miles.
